

Subject: CSWC Operational Period Summary 1800 November 20 to 0600 November 21 2013

WEATHER:

Northern California- Lingering showers over southern portions of the region this morning, otherwise increasing wind today. Gusty northerly winds in the Central Valley today and Friday with very strong north to east winds in the mountains this evening through early Saturday. Expect dry weather with lighter winds this weekend into early next week.

Southern California- A cold upper low will bring showers today as it approaches the region from the north. The low will stall over southern California Friday and Saturday continuing the threat of showers. The best chance for showers will be along and east of the mountains Friday and Saturday. Heavy snow is possible in the San Bernardino Mountains above 6000 feet. Fair and warmer weather early next week as high pressure rebuilds aloft.

Northern California: NSTR

Southern California:

Ventura Harbor Spill and Fisheries Closure, Ventura County

On November 18, 2013 at 1339 hours the California State Warning Center received a Hazardous Material Spill Report (13-7114) indicating a fishing vessel collided with another fishing vessel resulting in the release of as much as 300 gallons of red-dye diesel into the water of Ventura Harbor. The damaged vessel has been removed from the water and is currently undergoing repairs. Cleanup operations and investigation into the incident is ongoing. The Oiled Wildlife Care Network has activated two recovery teams to collect oiled animals.

The Office of Spill Prevention and Response (OSPR) advised that the Office of Environmental Health Hazard Assessment (OEHHA) has recommended and declared that the fisheries within the entire harbor be closed. This does not prohibit vessel traffic in and out of the harbor, however if OEHHA determines that re-opening of the fisheries is not safe by 11/20/2013 at 1330 hours, seafood testing for hydrocarbon contamination will commence. Update: OEHHA has revised its recommendation regarding the geographic boundaries of the closed area to be the following: Ventura Harbor to the exterior breakwater boundaries, to exclude the residential canals to the north \(Ventura Keys\). OEHHA is still advising that anglers avoid fishing in the areas where there is a visible sheen on the water.
